Our speaker this month is Chris Robinson, Head of John Ferneley High School, one of the most successful schools in the county. Following on from the recent pressure on school budgets, Chris will explain how the business side of education now forms a major part in ensuring the academic success of a school. In addition the introduction of performance related progression for the teaching staff has meant new skills to be taken on board. An informative and entertaining speaker, Chris will be describing school days somewhat different from our time in those "best days of our lives"
